Slim Design - IP64 Protection

Minsu IP64 is a compact and specially designed watertight lighting solution. Its anodized aluminum housing offers mechanical strength and long-lasting use. The product utilizes a silicone seal running the entire length between the housing and the opal diffuser. Special lugs on the diffuser apply pressure to this seal, creating IP64 protection between the housing and the diffuser. Silicone seals under the side covers provide additional protection against dust and moisture.

Offering surface-mounted or pendant mounting options thanks to its mounting springs, Minsu-IP64 provides application flexibility in projects. It is a reliable and long-lasting lighting solution for corridors, parking lots, technical areas, production areas, warehouses, and humid environments.
