Recessed Square Downlight Fixture

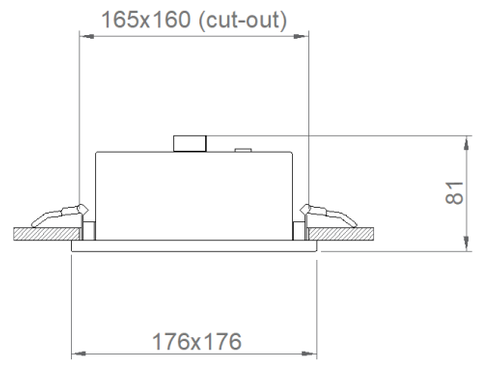

The CANVAS Series, with its metal sheet body structure and square form, is a stylish and functional recessed downlight solution developed for modern architectural projects. Thanks to its simple design and homogeneous light distribution, it provides balanced lighting to the space while offering an aesthetic appearance that integrates seamlessly with the ceiling surface.

It adapts to project-specific lighting scenarios with various power, color temperature, and control options. Its Class II electrical protection structure offers high safety standards.

It easily adapts to different application environments such as offices, shops, hotels, educational buildings, and commercial areas.
